

5 TOOLS EVERY DEVELOPER NEEDS

Personal recommendations by Simon – in use every day!

VISUAL STUDIO CODE

If you are working with Angular, Node, TypeScript or any modern frontend framework, Visual Studio Code is the go-to editor that you should use! PS: My theme is "Atom One Dark"

POSTMAN

Working with API data? I couldn't do my work without this tool, it's the best way to test any API, payloads you need to send or data that you receive back from your/any server!

SOURCETREE

If you don't feel comfortable with Git on the command line, this tool is the perfect UI to review all your code before you check in your bugs!

TOGGL

When work on multiple projects or simply want to keep track on which areas of your life you spend time, toggl helps you to easily track all hours in different categories – for free!

SLACK

Slack is not only for posting funny cat videos to your coworkers. There are tons of free channels for developers that you can join to immediately connect with others and fix issues faster! And of course powerful CI integrations as well.
